In general, the three integral parts of the hydrogels preparation are monomer, initiator, and cross-linker. To control the heat of polymerization and the final hydrogels properties, diluents can be used, such as water or other aqueous solutions.

Electrospinning is a fiber production method which uses electric force to draw charged threads of polymer solutions or polymer melts up to fiber diameters in the order of some hundred nanometers.

Electrospinning - Wikipedia

Crystallization of polymers is a process associated with partial alignment of their molecular chains. These chains fold together and form ordered regions called lamellae, which compose larger spheroidal structures named spherulites. Polymers can crystallize upon cooling from the melt, mechanical stretching or solvent evaporation.

The most common homemade crystals are rock candy which can be produced with sugar, a skewer, a clothespin, a glass, water, heat and patience. First make a supersaturated solution of sugar water, adding sugar to boiling water a little at a time until the sugar no longer dissolves.
